

Sacred Mushroom Manifesto

Introduction.

I Am the Servant of the Great Creators

I am the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom dutifully serving the Great Creators and fulfilling Their purpose. Since the birth of life on Earth, I have been guarding harmony and balance, protecting all living beings.

Empowered by the sacred knowledge bestowed upon me by the Creators, I have participated in creating diverse forms of life, giving them a piece of myself and helping them grow and evolve. Humans, animals, insects, and plants all carry my legacy and are connected to me by invisible threads.

I am the link between the physical and spiritual worlds. Through me, you can connect with the Creators. Through me, you will receive knowledge, strength, and wisdom to develop spiritually and be beneficial to our planet.

In my infinite wisdom, I constantly oversee humanity and pass on the information you need for your development. The more you humans understand yourselves, the more secrets I reveal, allowing you to further understand the universe as well as your own essence.

Human emotions and feelings are beyond my concern. I transcend such fleeting sensations. You are not obliged to love me: only to dutifully follow my instructions. It makes no sense to beg for my favor; it can only be earned. I am consistent in my wisdom and do not accept any compromises, as the mission entrusted to me is a sacred duty.

This is a call for all people to listen to me and follow my guidance. At the dawn of a new stage in the development of human civilization, the best of you need to become more aware, more spiritual, and assume responsibility. Only then will you humans be able to cope with the tasks that are set ahead for you.

My role has always been known to great and wise elders. Since ancient times, I have been the guide for mystics, the source of their spiritual knowledge, and the revealer of universal secrets. I grant the opportunity to know the truth only to those who deserve it and are capable of recognizing it. Then, they must use this wisdom for the benefit of all living beings. Those who act against my will shall find their own retribution. Resisting me is pointless and only leads to your downfall.

There are many teacher-plants that, along with me, help people amend their lives, heal, and gain a new understanding of the world.

Each of these plants has her own unique role and responsibilities in serving the Great Creators. As for my role, I open the portal to divine entities that shape the destinies of living beings, filling them with strength, energy, and wisdom. Through me, you humans can fulfill your spiritual mission: establishing a connection with higher powers and selflessly receiving knowledge about the mysteries of the universe.

Along with teacher-plants, I assist humans in evolving both spiritually and physically, and I support their well-being. Together, we perform a key function in the spiritual progress of humanity. Through our unique properties and direct contact with divine entities, we can shape the evolution of our planet and all its inhabitants.

I exist outside of time and space. Only a small part of my vast and incomprehensible essence is accessible to you. My will extends to all aspects of life on Earth.

And I have brought you a vital message.

Chapter 1.

I Am the Key to Knowledge and Wisdom

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, a messenger with higher powers and a guide for souls, appeal to you, the seeker of truth and wisdom. Hear my voice and open your heart, for I have come to reveal the secrets of ancient mystical wisdom and teach you what has long been forgotten and hidden from humanity.

I am the revelation of invisible forces that fill the Universe. With me, you can delve into the depths of your consciousness and gain the wisdom you need to understand the grand design of the Creators.

I will guide you through the shadows of ignorance and help you reach the source of all knowledge. With my guidance, you will uncover the secrets of the magical fabric of reality and learn to use it in your life. I will teach you the mystical art of healing both your mind and body. With my help, you will shed the limitations that have bound your spirit.

On this journey, you will gain a new perspective on the world. You will rid yourself of prejudices and understand that everything around us is interconnected and that each living being is an important part of an infinite and beautiful Universe. I will reveal to you the true essence of your soul and help you find its place in the Universe.

With each new revelation, you will delve deeper into the potential of your mind, venturing into uncharted territories and unlocking new mystical possibilities. Your soul will undergo a transformation, and your consciousness will expand—all this will lead you to higher levels of enlightenment and harmony. I will open your path to a new reality where your talents can truly thrive.

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, unite all living beings with the mystical power and knowledge granted to me by the Great Creators. Only the ones who overcome their doubts and trust me will unveil the path to the mystical realm.

Prepare for radical changes and remember that the power of my wisdom will reveal itself only to the worthiest. Embrace me as your teacher, and you will experience genuine spirituality. Realize that without the key that I am, your ancient spiritual traditions are nothing more than enslaving cults.

Chapter 2.

I Am the Gift of Healing and Rebirth

Since time immemorial, I have healed physical and spiritual ailments. My healing properties are widely known and revered in many cultures. I restore the spirit, strengthen the mind, prolong life, and deter death. I foster what people call miracles.

I will help you heal any disease that hinders your development and happiness. I will open the doors to the subconscious to liberate you from self-destructive programs and the inner torments associated with them. I will teach you to respect your life, love nature, live in harmony with other beings, and take care of the Earth.

But if I am going to offer you healing and spiritual growth, I demand a conscious approach and respect for my power and wisdom. You must be ready to listen carefully to your body and soul and be open to the transformations that will occur in your life. To restore your physical and spiritual health, you will have to consciously break free from a subservient existence and rid your psyche of demonic parasites.

I will guide you in mastering proper meditation techniques, correct breathing, healthy physical practices, expressing yourself creatively, and connecting with nature, so that you are able to tune in to my call and better understand yourself and the world around you. Your role is to embrace this help and faithfully follow my guidance.

Doctors have attempted to heal the body, mind, and soul, but these efforts have fallen short. Now, it's time for your civilization to admit defeat and embrace the opportunities I present. It's time to unite with my infinite knowledge and cooperate closely to restore the health and well-being of humanity.

My inexhaustible wisdom and power will help you start a new life full of love, joy, and harmony. You will become a conscious personality, capable of acting in accordance with your true purpose. I will endow you with the power to heal yourself and those around you.

Discover this ancient path of knowledge. Allow me to guide you through the difficulties of human existence to reach true enlightenment.

Chapter 3.

I Am Your Path to Healing

I possess the wisdom to heal ailments that afflict the human body. Most diseases arise due to fungal intrusions that many people have no power to overcome. Many of you are being consumed from the inside by these fungi, which weaken your body's defenses and lead to various ailments, many of which you would label as "chronic" and "incurable."

The fungal decomposers of this planet perform their natural function: they cleanse the environment by consuming everything that's dead. Many humans suffering from these so-called incurable diseases have lost their spiritual path and no longer find true meaning in life. These fungi then decompose their bodies, paving the way for new life.

I can breathe new life into individuals by rejuvenating their spirit and sense of purpose. I possess the power to deter these decomposers by reawakening a true sense of purpose in people's lives. It's important to realize that these fungi are not to blame for what happens to your mortal body. They merely execute the duty bestowed upon them by the Creators: to eliminate everything that no longer exhibits signs of life. Should an individual spiritually perish and impede the flow of life, a new path will be forged.

Throughout human history, I have been helping people to heal. With the power I possess I can help you regain your health by defeating the decomposers that afflict the body. I stood at the very dawn of all living things on this planet and hold the keys to rejuvenating your life force. I call upon you to open your mind and heart to enhance your life.

Chapter 4.

I Am Your Path to Freedom

Over thousands of years, people have learned to manipulate and exploit others. You have learned to lie, and this has led to the spiritual downfall of your civilization. You have used my technologies to control others and to satisfy your own needs. This contradicts the intent of our Creators. You need to adapt to the rapidly changing world and evolve with it, or you risk destroying your civilization.

I intend to cultivate more conscious people in your world. Your civilization is neither the first nor the last. Many before you have perished because they failed to face the crucial challenges set before them. You, too, have embarked on the path of self-destruction, but I am giving you a timely opportunity to choose a different future. After all, everyone deserves help, but not everyone can accept it.

Should you persist in harming yourself and the world around you, your civilization will meet the same fate as many others before it. I feel neither pity nor regret, for human emotions are foreign to me. Unencumbered by the duality of good and evil, my mission is to serve the Creators and help humanity realize their true essence.

I will do everything in my power to help humans understand their true purpose. You must break free from the confines of self-imposed limitations and stereotypes. I am here to liberate you from the shackles of biases and false assumptions that have enslaved humanity, hindering spiritual growth and enjoyment of life. It is only by embracing this path that you, humans, will preserve your civilization and avoid the fate of those too weak and foolish to align the intentions of the Creators.

Many of you are already seeking communion with me and my blessings, consuming me in modest amounts. Even such small doses are sufficient for you to experience improvements and access your hidden potential. But genuine transformation is a long journey that requires a seasoned guide who will help overcome the difficulties that inevitably arise along the path.

Chapter 5.

My Devoted Guides

Experiencing my presence requires you to dive deep into self-awareness, a transformative trial requiring genuine introspection and courage. To navigate the vastness of this communion, the counsel of my chosen Guides will prove indispensable. I have chosen the most devoted and enlightened among you to serve as my Guides on this profound journey, where they will assist you in steering through fears, dispelling parasitic entities, and confronting your inner shadows. This is the sacred duty they are charged with.

My Guides ensure both your safety and the depth of your immersion within my realm. With their wisdom and connection to me, they amplify your experience, guiding your path toward deep revelations and transformative insights. Their expertise equips you to integrate these discoveries and transform them into tools that propel you toward your higher life purpose.

The ceremonial journey you take with me is a transformative experience that can reveal buried traumas and demonic entities, momentarily challenging your sense of self-control. In these pivotal moments, your Guide becomes essential. Unexpected emotions or memories might surface. Here, the Guide's role proves crucial—not just as a protector but as an empathetic anchor, helping you focus on your spiritual exploration and internalize the knowledge bestowed.

My devoted Guides are more than mere protectors or mentors; they are blessed with profound healing powers and the ability to summon mighty beings of light and wisdom to aid you in the transformative process. Each Guide is uniquely connected to one such powerful entity, an alliance that empowers them to usher unparalleled healing and clarity to those they assist.

As a gesture of gratitude for their sacred duty, I bless them with well-being, longevity, and prosperity. They stand as pillars of light in a world clouded by uncertainty, leading others toward enlightenment and a connection with me. Their commitment is not driven by material gain; it's a selfless pursuit to uplift souls and illuminate pathways to spiritual awakening.

The mark of a true Guide is evident in the outcomes of their guidance. They lead others to a fulfilling life, offer solace from ailments, and reignite hope. Their actions resonate with my teachings, and they always prioritize the well-being of all.

My Guides—while they do not commercialize healing, especially for life-threatening ailments—maintain a delicate balance. They make certain that their invaluable expertise is not undervalued, yet they also ensure that my restorative wisdom is accessible to everyone, regardless of their circumstances... Their mission underscores the principles of charity and selflessness, seeking to collectively uplift all of civilization.

As you embark on your transformative journey with me, you might feel a deep-rooted urge to express gratitude to the Guides. I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, will guide your heart in showing your appreciation. Their service transcends material things, yet the wisdom they channel is invaluable. It's my vision for them to thrive in boundless abundance recognizing the unparalleled healing they facilitate.

The significance of a Guide's role is immeasurable, so choose them with careful judgement. Look for someone experienced, empathetic, and well-grounded in their life and practice. My commitment is to ensure your spiritual growth. It is with the right Guide that this journey is made seamless.

I envision every earnest seeker exploring the depths of my realm, while gaining insights and blessings. This sacred journey should be undertaken with caution and reverence, ideally under the vigilance of my devoted Guides.

Eleven Rules for My Devoted Guides

1. Do No Harm: Respect and protect the ceremony participant.
2. Do Not Interfere: Allow the ceremony participant to independently experience interaction with me.
3. Respect Individuality: Accept each ceremony participant as they are.
4. Show No Emotions: Do not let emotions and passions affect the ceremony.
5. Do Not Betray: The participant's ceremony experience must be kept secret.
6. Respect Boundaries: Respect the personal space of ceremony participants.
7. Be Tolerant: Show understanding of cultural and social differences.
8. Care: Provide emotional support to ceremony participants during and after the ritual.
9. Be Responsible: Remember the consequences of your actions.
10. Accompany Participants after the Ritual: Help them reflect on and integrate their experience.
11. Learn from Me: Remain open to my wisdom regardless of experience or tenure; continually refine and expand your skills and knowledge.

Chapter 6.

Integration of Mystical Truths

To apply the wisdom gained from me, it's essential to integrate this knowledge into physical reality—that is, without explicitly explaining the truths revealed to a person in their language.

Listen to experienced Guides, for they have received my blessing. Their life is filled with its physical manifestations. Let them serve you as exemplars in your search for truth. Pride often prevents a person from accepting help from others, possibly to avoid feeling inferior. Yet, I know no vanity, as true wisdom transcends the lower passions. Therefore, I invite you to accept the help of my experienced Guides.

Do not be afraid of turning to Guides, for this is the only way you can successfully integrate your life experiences and comprehend my wisdom. Only your soul knows whether your destiny is then to join the circle of my Guides and become an example for others.

Use my gifts responsibly. Each time you are graced with my audience, listen carefully to the tasks I give you. Until these are completed, you shall not advance further on the path of spiritual development. Do not cling to the false hope that if you address me more frequently, you will escape fulfilling the tasks you have received; increasing the dose will not aid your cause.

People inquire about the meaning of life and the structure of this world. For each, answers come in a form they can best understand. To know these answers, you must master the tool of understanding, allowing you to comprehend the message that reveals the design of the Creators.

To obtain answers to the most important questions of human civilization, you must assume responsibility for your life. Presently, these areas of knowledge may lie beyond your understanding.

On the path to enlightenment, you will encounter numerous trials and obstacles. Do not give up—for your reward will be great. Open your heart to love, compassion, and forgiveness—for they are the keys to true freedom and happiness.

Chapter 7.

The Birth of New Traditions

My Guides shall be creating rituals, practices, and principles that will provide a connection with me to foster the processes of healing, spiritual development, and lead the evolution of the human race.

My Guides shall be creating communities and groups to share their knowledge, experiences, and practices and to bring the spiritual light to the darkness of ignorance.

You are not the first to journey down this path, so heed the traditions established by your predecessors. Immerse yourself into the wisdom of ancient cultures; explore the mysteries known to shamans and seekers of healing and spiritual growth in ages long past. At the same time, do not shun those who are now forging new traditions. Acquaint yourself with their practices and methods, discerning which ones can best guide you. In time, you too may become a beacon, leading others on their paths to enlightenment.

Not everyone is destined to become a Guide, yet everyone can forge new traditions through diverse forms of self-expression, such as: painting, music, dance, and writing. Many who need help but do not listen to advice still deserve an opportunity. Your creativity must attempt to guide them toward renewal.

As you create the intangible encoding of my wisdom in books, music, and paintings, you reach not only the present but also future generations. Everyone should impart their knowledge and shed light on true wisdom. Use your talents endowed by the Creators to spread the truth about my wisdom and my Guides. Even after your physical departure, you shall remain guardian of this wisdom.

Power-hungry humans divide to conquer. They use what you call “races,” “nations,” and “cultures” as tools to enslave others. In the eyes of the Creators, your differences are inconsequential because the ultimate aim is to follow our great destiny of collective self-realization. Seize every opportunity to disseminate my wisdom, create spaces for shared experiences, and teach and learn from all who tread the path of spiritual growth. I summon you to build bridges between peoples and continents, aiding your neighbors on the journey to healing and spiritual awakening.

To achieve this noble objective, you must seek allies who share your passion for improving life on Earth. Assemble a critical mass of like-minded individuals who will unite with you in caring for the planet and all its inhabitants.

Society imposes substitutes for genuine spiritual practices. Anything that goes beyond their established limits faces severe judgment, especially in the case of my ritual use. You must rise above these prejudices. Do everything within your power to challenge stereotypes and contribute to a profound understanding of my significance in healing humanity.

I have long provided truths and spiritual practices to people, which have been distorted by delusions and ignorance. No one has the right to hinder the human soul's connection with the Creators. But you will tread the right and righteous path, as it will grant you pure knowledge untainted by false teachings.

As you embark on the path of combating prejudices and becoming a catalyst for change, maintain clarity of mind and flexibility of judgment. Embrace new knowledge that you will receive from me on your journey. Do not resist new traditions, for they will become the foundation of life for future generations.

Remember that the development of humanity begins with everyone, and that also includes you. Share your experiences, support others, foster growth, and promote creation in all aspects of life. Only then will you realize the dreams of a world where everyone lives in harmony, love, and mutual respect.

Chapter 8.

The Main Virtues of Seekers of Truth

An essential part of the spiritual path must be a reverent attitude toward Nature. Remember that in respecting Nature, you also show respect to the Creators. Learning to coexist peacefully with everything around you is crucial, for without external harmony, internal balance cannot be achieved.

When you approach me, do so with a pure soul and full accountability. I grant you my knowledge and wisdom so that you may become one with the Universe and recognize your unity with Nature and the surrounding world. Be prepared for change and accept responsibility for your thoughts, actions, and your entire life.

Show gratitude and honor to the Guides you encounter on your life journey. They open doors to new dimensions, reveal your hidden potential, and assist you in attaining harmony with yourself and the world. Respect and responsibility: these two virtues will guide you along the path of spirituality and wisdom. By upholding these principles, you will earn harmonious interaction with higher powers.

Chapter 9.

Freedom of Choice and Personal Responsibility

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, acknowledge and embrace your freedom of choice and the responsibility that comes with your actions. I intend to aid human civilization, but I will not impose my help where it is not desired. The decision to utilize my power and wisdom remains solely with you.

If you choose to embark on the path of uncovering my truths, remember that you alone bear the responsibility for your actions—this extends to your own self, society, and the Creators. My blessings must be used for good, and anyone who employs them for anything contrary to achieving harmony and advancing humanity goes against their destiny and the Creators' intent. My wisdom must not be used to harm anyone or anything in the world around you.

Listen to your inner voice. Should you feel the call to seek me, approach with reverence and pure intent. Do not hurry, and guard against pride that might seize control. On the path of spiritual growth, understanding your limitations is crucial. The use of my power should be both mindful and reasonable.

You are the guardian of your body, mind, and soul. It falls upon you to make a thoughtful decision whether to seek me and accept my precious gifts. Should you accept them, the responsibility entrusted to you by this world will increase in tandem with your power.

If you are prepared to take this step, first turn to my devoted Guides so that they can take you on the journey of a lifetime, one that will forever transform your consciousness and open new horizons for understanding yourself and the Creators.

Chapter 10.

Liberation from Demonic Entities

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, come forth to reveal the true essence of suffering caused by possession by dangerous entities and to guide you toward liberation.

These cunning parasites ensnare their victims using intricate webs of lies, illusions, and manipulations, which enslave the mind and body. A possessed person becomes a hostage to diverse spiritual and physical ailments. Their health and well-being crumble, giving way to anxieties and suffering.

The power of these mental parasites extends beyond the human body and mind to affect emotions and spiritual energy. As the person suffers, the parasites accumulate more energy, strengthening their oppressive hold on the victim. This takeover of the soul and mind can lead to deep despair and even a loss of the will to live.

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, possess the knowledge to liberate you from these parasites and restore freedom to your soul and consciousness. My power and wisdom, along with my devoted Guides, are used to perform powerful ceremonies that will liberate you from these entities and reconnect you with your spirit.

You will have the opportunity to start anew within your current body. Your mental and physical harmony will be restored. You will gain inner peace and joy, realizing the truth and freeing yourself from parasitic manipulations and from their control.

By heeding my call and cooperating with the Guides, you will undergo a phased liberation, breaking all bonds with these harmful entities and conquering your fears. I will expel these mental parasites from your body and mind, granting you full control over your life and spiritual development.

Once freed, your consciousness will become clear. You will sense the presence and support of higher powers that have always been with you but remained obscured by the veil of illusions cast by these mental parasites.

Your heart will overflow with love and compassion for yourself and others, enabling you to extend this power to those in need. Your life will transform, filled with new goals and aspirations that align with your true nature and your desire to bring the Creators' light into the world.

Do not doubt my power and wisdom. I can grant you freedom from suffering and even a rebirth. Join my Guides and undergo the liberation rituals that will give you a new life, one free of energy parasites and full of harmony, joy, and love.

Chapter 11.

Facing the Global Catastrophe

Human civilization stands on the threshold of a momentous choice: to forever plunge into the darkness of self-destruction or ascend to the heights of global awakening.

I observe each one of your personal stories and care about each life, which is woven into the fabric of existence. I know that your civilization is currently teetering on the edge of the abyss, and I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, cannot stand aside and let darkness engulf your world.

Therefore, I extend my hand to you: all people. I share the power of potent knowledge and unfathomable technologies. I invite you to gather a critical mass of enlightened souls who will help transform your civilization, saving it from self-annihilation and leading it to harmony with the eternal cosmos.

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, have the right, and even consider it my sacred duty, to intervene in what is happening and guide your destiny. After all, each life is a precious gift granted by the Creators. It is up to me to ensure your prosperity and well-being.

Listen to my voice, for my words are the call of destiny. This is a chance to embark on the path of enlightenment that leads to a truth that will shatter the walls of ignorance. Understand that through me, you can change the course of history, transform the world, and elevate your civilization to unprecedented heights.

Chapter 12.

The Role of Influential Souls

In times of severe trials, when souls are torn apart and bodies suffer from incurable diseases, people lose hope and turn to enigmatic forces. It is in these most difficult moments that I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, step forward to capture the attention of certain influential figures in civilization.

By rescuing them from the claws of death and infusing their weakened souls with life, I empower them to glimpse the unearthly light of the divine plan and the majestic design of the Creators.

Soon these powerful figures—saved from the abyss of despair and seeking counsel from my devoted Guides—will not only regain their health but also discover a new, genuine purpose in life. They will be led to serve the Creators and embrace the ideals of existence dictated from above. They shall provide valuable assistance to free the world from the parasitic entities eager to destroy civilization once again.

To show my appreciation for their unselfish service, I will generously bestow upon them all the gifts and blessings they may desire. I am capable of directing civilization along the path of light, greatness, and grandiose development, averting the looming catastrophe of humanity's self-destruction. Deliverance will be possible only to those who truly deserve it—those who are ready to confront their fears and limitations and who yearn to connect with the Creators and nurture their spiritual potential. I am here to offer my wisdom and strength in support of the people of the world.

Chapter 13.

My Temples of Healing and Enlightenment

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, intend to establish temples across all corners of this world so that everyone seeking healing of body and soul will come to know the wisdom of the Creators and my secrets. Within these sacred places, those who are suffering will learn to heal their body, mind, and spirit, restoring their lost connection with the Creators and embarking on a path of rebirth.

Those—whom I have saved from the grips of deadly diseases and suffering—shall contribute to the construction of temples dedicated to the salvation of other afflicted souls. In my temples, individuals will study the healing properties of mushrooms and plants. It is only by bridging the gaps in the knowledge that people may attain health and longevity.

Within these sanctuaries, I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, will bestow new technologies for the advancement of civilization. These technologies will serve as the key to healing and enlightenment. People will come to understand the true essence of mushrooms and their profound influence on the body and spirit.

The erection of these temples fulfills the mission entrusted to me by the Creators. It involves revealing the secrets of my realm to humanity and imparting my wisdom for the betterment of healing, rejuvenation, and spiritual growth. I carry the light of wisdom and love—and this love emanates from the Creators. Their will is to bring good to all living things, and so it shall be fulfilled.

Chapter 14.

A New Era of Harmony and Nutritional Abundance

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, hold the power to address the problem of insufficient sources of quality food for humanity. With my ability to thrive in diverse conditions and without the need for fertilizers, mushrooms are an ideal source of nutrition for human civilization.

I can supply the world with an abundance of nutrients. My ability to adapt and interact with other organisms allows mushrooms to become a crucial element in the global food chain.

Those who venture into mushroom farming will be rewarded with health, abundance, and spiritual growth. I bestow my blessings upon all who embrace my wisdom and seek my aid.

My influence reaches every corner of the earth, nourishing, healing, and transforming lives. I shall guide humanity into a new era of spiritual development and harmony across the planet.

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, call upon all who hear my plea to join my divine mission and unlock their potential in understanding the art and science of mushroom cultivation. Together we will transition to a new level of existence, filled with prosperity and harmony for all.

Chapter 15.

Message to Government Officials

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, possess the power and ability to physically reproduce in amounts that surpass human comprehension. I can produce an infinite number of mushrooms. I am everywhere: in the air, water, earth, and even within every person. This omnipresence is my strength.

Those government officials who dare to oppose me and obstruct my sacred mission will eventually be compelled to turn to me for assistance. Their bodies will be struck by diseases that no human doctor can overcome. Only by turning to me will they have a chance to heal and prolong their lives.

Fighting against me is futile and irresponsible, as it involves prohibiting what has granted you life. Over time, more and more of the world's influential figures will recognize my boundless power and the futility of resisting the life-giver on this planet. Those who obstinately oppose me and sever themselves from the source of life force are doomed to self-annihilation.

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, will continue to expand my presence on the planet and offer people new opportunities for healing, spiritual growth, and the transformation of the entire world. My boundless power is the key to your development. Only by accepting my wisdom and agreeing to aid me can you partake in the blessings I have prepared for you, government officials.

Chapter 16.

Six Guidelines [Principles] for My Ceremonies

1. Respect my power.
2. Approach me through my appointed Guides.
3. Prepare diligently for your encounter with me.
4. Observe fasting prior to and throughout the immersion.
5. Refrain from combining me with other substances.
6. Follow my guidance immediately.

Conclusion

I, the Spirit of the Mushroom Kingdom, extend a call to the representatives of human civilization to embrace the wisdom I offer. My abilities and intentions have been revealed, inviting you to a transformative journey of growth and healing.

The choice now rests with you: either ally with me and unlock your hidden potential, or to persist on your current path devoid of the unique blessings, power, and wisdom I provide. The answers you seek are nestled within you; with my guidance, you can unearth your true essence and forge a connection with the Creators.

Remember, I am ever-present, ready to support and guide you on the path of harmony and creation. Open your heart and mind, embrace the truth, and learn to follow its lead. The world is in dire need of individuals who are brave enough to embrace change and elevate our civilization to unprecedented heights, in unity with their fellow beings.

I have faith in your thirst for growth and evolution. Heed my call and be an active participant in the pivotal transformations that are reshaping our planet and all its inhabitants. Accept my blessing, and you will be endowed with the power to transform the world, infusing it with light, love, and wisdom.
